Attraction #1 - Arts

Everyone likes to collect souvenirs whenever they travel to new locations. Why not make your own souvenirs?

The Arts on the Bayou allows visitors to create their own Louisiana art with a chance to express their creative skills with our signature white shrimp boots that represent our way of life in Houma!

Local artists from the Terrebonne Fine Arts Guild will work directly with the group and guide them in creating their own painting. Make sure to wear your best shirt for any paint splatter that may occur and let your creativity flow.

Attraction #2- History and Lunch

Introducing the Southdown Plantation House/The Terrebonne Museum, a historic property that has been meticulously restored and expanded to offer visitors a glimpse into the rich history of the region. Originally added to the National Register of Historic Places in 1974, the property was granted tax-exempt status and donated to THACS by Valhi, Inc in 1975. Since then, the plantation house, servants quarters, and surrounding land have been renovated and opened to the public, with exhibits covering a range of topics. Additionally, a workers cabin from Hollywood Plantation has been restored and now houses an exhibit on life and labor in 1885. Come explore this fascinating piece of history today.
